

List of participants (confirmed)

Felix Ankamah Asante

Director, Institute of Statistical, Social & Economic Research (ISSER)

University of Ghana

FAsante@ug.edu.gh

Professor Felix Ankamah Asante chairs the board of the Institute of Statistical, Social & Economic Research (ISSER). He is currently the Director of the Institute of Statistical, Social and Economic Research (ISSER) of University of Ghana. After completing his first and second degrees in BSc Agriculture (Agriculture Economics) and MPhil in Agriculture Economics from the University of Ghana in 1990 and 1995, respectively, he obtained his PhD in Agriculture Economics from the Center for Development Research, University of Bonn, Germany in 2002. He joined the Institute of Statistical, Social and Economic Research (ISSER), University of Ghana some 17 years ago as a Research Fellow in January 1996. He rose to Senior Research Fellow in 2005 and was promoted to Associate Professor in 2010. He served as the Head of the Economics Division at ISSER from August 2007 to March 2011. Before his appointment as Director of ISSER on 1st August 2013, Prof. Asante has served as the Deputy Director from September 2011 to July 2013. Prof. Asante has served on numerous Boards and Committees at ISSER and the University of Ghana. He is also an External Examiner at the Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology (KNUST), Kumasi and the University of Cape Coast, Cape Coast. He has consulted for many local and international organizations as well as several countries in Africa and Europe. Prof. Asante has received numerous awards and grants from major donors and published over 50 papers in journals, books, book chapters and others.

Paulo Burnier da Silveira
Commissioner, CADE Brazil
paulo.silveira@cade.gov.br

Paulo Burnier da Silveira is Commissioner of the Brazilian Competition Authority (CADE). He holds a Bachelor's degree in Law from the Catholic University of Rio de Janeiro, a Master degree in Law from the Catholic University of Lisbon, and a PhD in Law from both the University of São Paulo and the University of Paris-2 (Panthéon-Assas). He also serves as Professor at the Law School of the University of Brasília.

Edward Chiweza

Economic Analyst, The Competition Commission SA

via NomsaM@compcom.co.za

Edward is an Economic Analyst at The Competition Commission SA. He worked previously as an economist at the Competition & Tariff Commission of Zimbabwe.

Reena das Nair

Senior Researcher, CCRED - Centre for Competition, Regulation and Economic Development
reenadn@uj.ac.za

Prior to joining CCRED, Ms das Nair was Programme Manager: Industrial Policy at Trade and Industrial Policy Strategies (TIPS), a not-for-profit research organisation undertaking economic research for policy makers. Before TIPS, Reena worked as a Principal Economist in the Policy and Research division at the Competition Commission of South Africa. She has experience in undertaking investigations and economic analysis in mergers, abuse of dominance and cartel cases.

Prior to joining the Commission, Reena worked for specialist economic consultancy Johannesburg Economics. She has also undertaken research in economic regulation, particularly in the energy sector.

Ms das Nair holds an M Com in economics and BCom (Hons) from the University of the Witwatersrand. She has co-authored several conference papers and has a number of publications.

Dennis Davis

Judge of the High Court, Professor at the University of Cape Town
DDavis@judiciary.org.za

Dennis Davis is a judge at the High Court of Cape Town and Judge President of the Competition Appeal Court of Cape Town. He teaches constitutional law and tax law at the University of Cape Town. Davis is also a member of the Commission of Enquiry into Tax Structure of South Africa. His research focuses on constitutional law, socioeconomic rights, and human rights and litigation. He was a legal advisor on electoral law and federalism to the Constitutional Assembly during the formation of South Africa's new constitution. He has been a visiting lecturer/professor at the Universities of Cambridge, Florida, Toronto and Harvard University, and currently hosts a South African television program on current political and economic issues entitled "Judge For Yourself." Judge Davis has published over one hundred articles in academic journals and co-written eight books on a number of legal subjects including Rights and Constitutionalism (Jutas, 1994), Beyond Apartheid (Ravan, 1991), and Detention and Torture in South Africa (St. Martin's, 1987). Judge Davis earned a B.Com LL.B. from the University of Cape Town and an M. Phil. from the University of Cambridge.

Eleanor Fox

Professor, New York University School of Law
eleanor.fox@nyu.edu

Eleanor M. Fox is the Walter J. Derenberg Professor of Trade Regulation at New York University School of Law. Before joining the faculty of NYU Law School, Fox was a partner at the New York law firm Simpson Thacher & Bartlett. She has served as a member of the International Competition Policy Advisory Committee to the Attorney General of the U.S. Department of Justice (1997-2000) (President Clinton) and as a Commissioner on President Carter's National Commission for the Review of Antitrust Laws and Procedures (1978-79). She has advised numerous younger antitrust jurisdictions, including South Africa, Egypt, Tanzania, The Gambia, Indonesia, Russia, Poland and Hungary, and the common market COMESA. Fox received an honorary doctorate degree from the University of Paris-Dauphine in 2009. She was awarded an inaugural Lifetime Achievement award in 2011 by the Global Competition Review for "substantial, lasting and transformational impact on competition policy." Her books include THE DESIGN OF COMPETITION LAW INSTITUTIONS: GLOBAL NORMS, LOCAL CHOICES, with Michael Trebilcock (Oxford 2013), U.S. ANTITRUST LAW IN COMPARATIVE CONTEXT, cases and materials (3rd ed. West/Reuters 2012), and books on European Union law and on developing countries and competition. Her recent papers include Imagine: Pro-Poor(er) Competition Law (OECD and UNCTAD, both 2013), and, with Deborah Healey, When the State Harms Competition – The Role for Competition Law, forthcoming in the Antitrust Law Journal.

Sunel Grimbeek

Principal Economist,
Competition Commission South Africa
SunelG@compcom.co.za

As a senior economist at the Competition Commission Mr. Grimbeek is responsible for managing and coordinating research and policy development; managing and coordinating case analysis; contributing to building capacity for research and knowledge of the economics of competition and regulation.

Mary Gurure

Manager for Legal Services and Compliance, COMESA Competition Commission
MGurure@comesa.int

Ms Gurure is the Manager for Legal Services and Compliance at the COMESA Competition Commission. She started her career in 1993 as a Prosecutor with the Attorney-General's Office under the Ministry of Justice, Legal and Parliamentary Affairs in Zimbabwe. From 2001 she worked as a Chief Law Officer with the Legislative Drafting Division of the same Office before joining the Zimbabwe Competition and Tariffs Commission as its Commission Secretary and Legal Advisor in 2009. She joined the COMESA Competition Commission as Manager for Legal Services and Compliance in 2013 to date.

Ms Gurure is a holder of a Bachelor of Laws Honours degree from the University of Zimbabwe with a Post Graduate Diploma and Masters in Women's Law obtained from the same University and Certificates in Legislative Drafting and the Law of Treaties. She has attended numerous competition law training seminars and was engaged by the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development as a competition law expert Consultant.

Alexey Ivanov

HSE-Skolkovo Institute for Law and Development, Director

a.y.ivanov@gmail.com

Alexey Ivanov leads the Skolkovo-HSE Institute for Law and Development in its academic and strategic pursuits. Ivanov has guided the HSE-Skolkovo joint venture since its inception, directs the Institute's research and progress, and engages the findings of the Institute at the forefront of leading domestic Russian and international legal and policy arenas. Since 2012, Ivanov has served as Director of the Department for Legal Policy and Social Development at the Skolkovo Foundation. Alexey, since 2008, has taught the course Antitrust in the New Economy as part of the educational program mandated by the Federal Antimonopoly Service of Russia. Ivanov also researches at the Centre for Law, Economics and Society at University College London, with particular contribution to their Social Media Unit. He is a partner and co-founder of the law firm Nadmitov, Ivanov and Partners.

Ivanov graduated with a Masters Degree in Law from Harvard University in 2011, and he earned his first Masters from the Russian Presidential School of Private Law in 2004. Ivanov is a graduate of the Faculty of History and Political Science of the Russian State University for the Humanities (2002).

From 2003 to 2005 Alexey worked as a clerk in the Federation Council of Russia, where he was responsible for the organisation of the work of the Committee on Legal and Judicial Affairs. As an Assistant to the Chairman of the newly established Ninth Appeal Court (City of Moscow) Alexey was involved in a wide range of activities relating to the formation of a new court. From 2005 to 2008 Alexey worked as general counsel at large Russian industrial entities in the metallurgy and energy spheres.

Ivanov is currently serving his second term as the elected President of the Harvard Club of Russia, a leading Moscow-based non-profit that regularly convenes the city's business, political, and philanthropic elite together with University alumni. Ivanov is also founder of Cleantech, a Russian non-profit dedicated to the development of clean technology innovation.

Noluthando Jokazi

Junior Analyst, The Competition Commission South Africa
via NomsaM@compcom.co.za

Graduate Trainee at Competition Commission used to work at the Legal Oppidan Subwarden at Rhodes University, Vac Work at Hugo & Ngwenya Attorneys Graduated from Rhodes University

Joseph Kieyah

Acting Programmes Coordinator,
The Kenya Institute for Public Policy Research and Analysis
kieyah@kippra.or.ke

Prof. Kieyah (JD/PhD) is a Senior Policy Analyst and Head of Private Sector Development Division at the Kenya Institute for Public Policy Research and Analysis (KIPPRA). He is trained as a lawyer and economist at two top-notch universities in the USA and has substantial teaching experience and policy research. He holds PhD and MA degrees in Economics from University of Connecticut and University of Missouri respectively. He also holds a Juris Doctorate in Law from University of Iowa College of Law with a focus on Competition Law and International Law. His interdisciplinary research interest in law and economics focuses on land reform, governance, legal reform, competition issues, regulation, and corruption. He has been published in international reputable journals like American Law and Economic Review and Journal of Comparative Economics. He also teaches Management Economics and Financial Institutions and Capital Markets at Strathmore Business School. Prior to joining KIPPRA, he was an assistant professor of Law and Economics for three years at Pennsylvania State University in the US.

Joseph Kieyah holds a PhD and Master of Art (MA) in Economics from University of Connecticut and University of Missouri respectively. He also holds a Juris Doctorate (JD) in Law with specialty on Competition Law and International Trade from University of Iowa College of Law.

His interdisciplinary research interests in law and economics has been published in reputable journals like American Law and Economic Review and Journal of Comparative Economics. Prior to joining Kenya Institute for Public Policy Research and Analysis (KIPPRA) in 2009 as Principal Policy Analyst and the Head of Private Sector Development Division, he was a faculty member at Pennsylvania State University.

Michelle le Roux

Advocate, Johannesburg Bar

michellemleroux@mac.com

Michelle practices in the areas of general commercial law, competition law, consumer protection law, regulatory and administrative law. She has a particular interest in complex litigation, as well as experience in class action litigation during over 8 years of practice in New York, USA. Her interest and experience in public interest, human rights and constitutional litigation includes the issues of gender, education and media/expression.

Michelle is a Visiting Senior Fellow at the Mandela Institute, Wits University School of Law where she lectures in competition law.

Ioannis Lianos

Chair, Global Competition Law and Public Policy
Director, Centre for Law, Economics and Society
Faculty of Laws, University College London
i.lianos@ucl.ac.uk

Ioannis Lianos holds the chair of global competition law and policy at UCL Laws and is the Director of the Centre for Law, Economics and Society at UCL. He is also the chief researcher of the HSE Skolkovo Institute on law and Development and in that capacity leads the Institute's projects on competition law and policy, including the BRICS Joint Research Centre initiative and the Global Food Value Chain research project for which he is the Principal Investigator. He was awarded a Gutenberg Research chair at the Ecole Nationale d'Administration (ENA), the elite public administration school of the French republic in November 2011. He was appointed visiting research fellow at the Institute of Law and Society at Humboldt University in Berlin in January 2014 and an Alexander von Humboldt Foundation research fellow at WZB (Social Science Research Centre Berlin) in August 2014.

His most recent publications include Competition Law (forth. Hart, 2016), Brands, Competition and IP Law (CUP, 2015), Damages Actions for Competition Law Infringements (OUP, 2015), Competition and the State (SUP, 2014), the two volumes Handbook in European Competition Law (Edward Elgar, 2013), Competition Law and Development (SUP, 2013), The EU after the Treaty of Lisbon (CUP, 2012), Regulating Trade in Services in the EU and the WTO (CUP, 2012). In 2012 he was awarded the Philip Leverhulme prize for his seminal research on the role of economic evidence in legal adjudication. He is also a Laureat of the French Academy of Moral and Political Sciences (2005). Since 2014, he is a member of the review college of the UK Arts and Humanities Research Council. He has advised a number of governments and companies on competition law, IP matters as well as better regulation (impact assessment, CBA).

Claudio Lombardi

Research Fellow, HSE-Skolkovo Institute for Law and Development
clombardi@hse.ru

Claudio Lombardi holds a doctorate in competition law from the University of Trento (Doctoral School in Comparative and European Legal Studies), since March 2015. He obtained an LLM from the King's College, University of Aberdeen (with commendation) in 2012, a bachelor and a master in Law, both from the University of Brescia (summa cum laude) in 2008. He also gained a Diplôme de droit compare from the University Robert Schuman, Strasbourg, in 2009. He was a Max-Planck Institute guest researcher (MPRIV – Hamburg) in 2014. He was awarded a DAAD Grant of the Europa-Kolleg Institute of Hamburg in 2013 and an Erasmus Mundus Scholarship for doctoral researchers in 2012.

Claudio is chief editor and coordinator of the English team of the Antitrust Observatory, a project that aims at monitoring the application and the evolution of antitrust enforcement in Europe.

He has served, for 3 years, as a trainee lawyer and as an associate in leading Italian law firms and has gained experience also as an independent legal advisor of international companies and consultancy firms. During this period, he worked on a diverse set of legal issues ranging from contracting to international litigation.

In 2009, he also worked as assistant lecturer in private comparative law at the University of Brescia.

He researches about comparative competition law and policy, comparative regulatory law, law and economics and private comparative law. He has published (and is in the process of publishing) case comments, journal articles, and a book in the areas of competition law and private law.

Liberty Mncube

Chief Economist, Competition Commission South Africa

libertym@compcom.co.za

Dr Liberty Mncube is the Chief Economist and Manager of the Policy & Research division. He joined the Commission in 2007 and has worked at a senior level in both the Enforcement and Exemptions division and the Policy and Research division. As the Chief Economist, Dr Mncube is closely involved with the work of the case teams, giving economic advice on complex cases and policy issues.

Prior to joining the Commission, Dr Mncube worked at the Development Policy Research Unit, University of Cape Town, where his research focused on labour markets, poverty and economic development.

Dr Mncube holds a PhD in Economics from the University of KwaZulu-Natal and a MSc in Economics from the University of York. Dr Mncube has published widely on competition policy and economics in local and international journals.

Azza Raslan

Research Fellow, Centre for Law, Economics and Society
Faculty of Laws, University College London
azza.raslan.10@ucl.ac.uk

Azza graduated with honors from Cairo University, School of Law (2004). She holds a LLM degree from Boalt Hall, University of California at Berkeley (2006-2007) and a Magister degree from the School of Law, Cairo University (2004-2007). Azza joined the Centre for Law, Economics and Society at the Faculty of Laws as an MPhil/PhD candidate in September 2010. She is working under the supervision of Dr. Lianos, as a primary supervisor and Prof. Fredric Jenny, Chairman of the Competition Commission at the OECD and visiting professor at UCL, and Prof. Abel Mateus, Professor of Economics at New University of Lisbon and visiting professor at UCL, as secondary supervisors.

During her first year at UCL, Azza has worked as a research assistant for Prof. Valentine Korah, Emeritus Professor of Competition Law (Spring-Summer term 2011). Additionally, she has worked as a teaching assistant at the Faculty (Autumn 2010). She currently works at the Competition /Antitrust group at Linklaters LLP, as a legal intern since April 2011. Azza is also an editor for the World Competition Review, a Wolters Kluwer publication.

Before joining UCL, Azza assumed various roles in both the public and private legal sector. She has worked as part of the legal team at the Egyptian Competition Authority (2006). Also, she has worked as an Administrative Prosecutor at the Egyptian Administrative Prosecutor's Office (2007). She is currently on sabbatical leave from Baker & McKenzie-Cairo Office where she works as an associate (2008-present).

Simon Roberts

Professor, University of Johannesburg

simonjonroberts@gmail.com

Professor Simon Roberts is a professor at the University of Johannesburg, in the Economics and Econometrics Department.

He held the position of Chief Economist and Manager of the Policy & Research Division at the Competition Commission from November 2006 to December 2012. Prior to joining the Competition Commission he was Associate Professor of Economics at the University of the Witwatersrand, where he established and directed the Corporate Strategy and Industrial Development research programme examining firm decision-making and economic outcomes. In addition, Simon has consulted extensively on competition matters over the past 15 years and has been an expert witness in a number of major cases.

Previous positions include lecturer in Development Economics, University of East Anglia, UK; Senior Research Officer, Bank of Botswana; and lecturer in Economics, University College Cork, Ireland. Simon holds a PhD from University of London (Birkbeck College), MA from University of East Anglia, and BA (Hons) from Oxford University.

He has published widely including in the World Competition, Journal of Competition Law and Economics, Industrial and Corporate Change, Journal of African Economies, Development and Change, Journal of International Development, and the South African Journal of Economics.

Andrey Shastitko

Head of sub department for Competition and Industrial Policy of Economic Department at Moscow Lomonosov State University
saedd@mail.ru

Prof. Shastitko is the Head of Department of Competition and Industrial Policy, Faculty of Economics, Lomonosov Moscow State University and the Director of Center for research in competition and economic regulation studies, Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration.

As Leading consultant and Manager Prof. Shastitko has been involved in numerous projects of the Bureau of Economic Analysis. He is the author of more than 10 books and 60 articles.

He is also Professor of Economics at Moscow Lomonosov State University and Higher School of Economics.

Member of Expert Council, Government of the Russian Federation

Chairman of Council, Association for studies in public economics

Member, Non-profit Partnership вЪѐCompetition Support AssociationвЪѐ

Member, Expert Council for Competition the Ministry of Economic Development of the Russian Federation

Member, Committee on Property, Russian Union of Industrialists and Entrepreneurs

Member, Committee on Competition Development, Russian Union of Industrialists and Entrepreneurs

Recipient of FAS Russia Honorary Certificates in 2008 and 2011

David Unterhalter

Professor, Wits University Law School, Johannesburg
unterhalter@group621.co.za

David Unterhalter is a professor in the Law School and a former Director of its Mandela Institute. He is also a practising advocate of the Johannesburg Bar specializing in competition law, international trade, constitutional and administrative law, and commercial law. A member of the Appellate Body of the World Trade Organization, his teaching and research interests are in competition law and international trade law.

David Unterhalter serves as the Chairman of the Appellate Body of the World Trade Organisation. He has enjoyed a leading practice as a barrister in the fields of trade law, competition law, and public law. He practices in London and Johannesburg, where he is a Senior Counsel. David Unterhalter also holds a chair at the University of the Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, and has published widely in the fields of competition law, the law of evidence and public law. He has held visiting professorships at University College London and Columbia University.

Xianlin Wang

Professor, Shanghai Jiao Tong University
wangxianlin@sjtu.edu.cn

Professor Wang Xianlin is Associate Dean of KoGuan Law School and well-known competition law expert in China. He is an advisor for the Drafting Committee of China's Antimonopoly Law and a member of Consultant Committee for WTO Trade and Competition Policy of Ministry of Commerce. Since 2000, he has been in charge of more than 10 national or provincial research projects, including projects funded by National Social Science Planning Fund, the National Natural Science Foundation, the National Soft Science, and China Postdoctoral Science Foundation. He has received several provincial awards for his outstanding achievements in teaching and research. In 2002 and 2010, he won twice the nomination of the "National Outstanding Young and Middle-Aged Jurist". In 2004, he was awarded the title of "National Exemplary Teacher". In 2009, he was one of the winners of the "Shanghai Outstanding Young and Middle-Aged Jurist".